Navigating NoodleTools

1. Open another tab in your browser
2. In the search box type LHSMC to get to the library home page
3. In the grid, look for Noodletools and click on it
4. Use your ID number with @class.lps.org for the login

5. At this point, every student may be at a different place as some will have existing accounts and some will have to create a new account
6. NoodleTools will ask to connect to your LPS Google account. Please do that.
7. When you have successfully logged in, you will see the projects screen

Once you are logged in to NoodleTools, continue working on your project until everyone is logged in. We will come back together as a group soon.

8. We will work on two types of sources and how to insert them in NoodleTools.
   a. How to cite a source from a database like Student Resources in Context
   b. How to cite a website as a source

Know – NoodleTools is a container software that exports your sources in MLA format when you need to cite your sources for a paper.

Understand – A works cited list must be in an exact format to be considered MLA

Be Able to Do – Login successfully to Noodletools and Input your sources for your Works Cited list

New words to know!
Source Citation
Works Cited
Database